

PAT- (Portable Appliance Testing)

Stage lanterns are sometimes missed when it comes to portable appliance testing (PAT) , either because the lanterns are too high up or more often because “They have those old round pin plugs on” .

Apart from your H&S responsibilities, you want to make sure your system and lanterns are safe for you and others to use.

We are happy to test your lanterns in our workshop @ £3.75 per lantern, or quote for carrying out the test on site.

SERVICE

The list of lighting and sound equipment we are able to service in house is too long to print here.

We are an authorised service centre for Zero 88 equipment and work closely with the service department of many of the leading manufacturers.

Please telephone our Service department for further details.
